Community Ministry & Covenanting ZOOM Mtg. UU Society for Community Ministries
Thursday, June 25, 7:30 to 9pm EDT

This workshop offers a framework for the development of a covenant between a Community Minister, the Senior/Associate Ministers, and the Congregation that they serve. In Unitarian Universalist best practices, the documents we co-create are nuanced to afford the participants support, guidance, and attainable goals, transparency, accountability, and inspiration, with the intention that they are mutually derived and beneficial. Rev. Terra Collier-Young, Community Minister affiliated with the U U Fellowship of Santa Cruz County, CA

What Is Community Ministry? ZOOM Mtg. UU Society for Community Ministries
Saturday, June 27, 7:30 to 9pm EDT

Now, more than ever, we need community ministry. But what is community ministry? UUSCM has defined it as ministry done beyond the church walls--and often this is the case. But sometimes it bridges church and the larger world. It can also encompass chaplaincy work in hospitals or prisons. And there are many innovative community ministries. So how do we define this work? And what do we ground this work in? Join us for an exploratory conversation facilitated by UUSCM Board Members.

Nikki Hunt / Rev. Bonnie Tarwater / Doug Jones

GA 2020 Events with a UUSCM Member as a Panelist / Presenter

(UUSCM member name in bold.)

#411 What Happened to the Journey

Saturday 10:00 a.m. EDT

(Journey Towards Wholeness Transformation Committee)

A historical overview of the UUA's journey towards becoming an anti-racist organization. The overarching themes will include: 1) understanding our institutional racial identity; 2) white fragility; 3) difficulty in changing systems; and 4) what is next on our journey. Participants will leave rooted in history, ready to act now.

#513 Indigenous Resistance:

Sunday 3:30 p.m. EDT

NoDAPL Political Prisoners Create Climate Justice

(Green Sanctuary Program of the UUA)

Colonialism criminalizes Indigenous resistance. While the Water Protector Movement at Standing Rock inspired the world, Indigenous activists are targeted as Political Prisoners by the US government. UUs have responded powerfully to the Standing Rock call. Now, toward a truly just and sustainable world, we are called into deepening decolonizing work.

*Leoyla Cowboy Giron, Little Feather Giron, Rev. Karen Van Fossan

605 Covenants and Colonialism

ON-DEMAND WORKSHOP

(Indigenous Caucus of DRUUMM, UU Ministry for Earth)

We remember the Pilgrims and the first churches in New England as forerunners of our contemporary Unitarian Universalism. We especially cherish their covenants. Yet we know that these churches advocated and blessed the conquest and genocide of the original people of this land. Who do we covenant with, and why?

*Clyde Grubbs, Rev. Danielle DiBona, Rev. Gary McAlpin

#606 Decolonization and Earth Justice

ON-DEMAND WORKSHOP

(Indigenous Caucus of DRUUMM, UU Ministry for Earth)

Our earth nourishes and gives us life, yet the values and practices of settler colonialism have been ecologically destructive and now threaten life itself. Sustainable indigenous ways of life were violently replaced. Learning life giving practices from Turtle Islands original peoples could make all the difference for generations to come.

*Rev. Dr. Clyde Grubbs, Aly Tharp, Rev. Gary McAlpin

#614 Sacred Mental Health Matters

ON-DEMAND WORKSHOP

(UU Mental Health Network)

Welcoming is integral to UUism but can be challenging in the presence of those with mental health problems. This session will explore the most important elements found by a sample of UU congregations in meeting this challenge through mental health ministry and advocacy based on belief in the Beloved Community.

Rev. Barbara Meyers, Janet Holden, Michelle Wagner

#616 Settler Colonialism and Genocide

ON-DEMAND WORKSHOP

(Indigenous Caucus of DRUUMM, UU Ministry for Earth)

The Mayflower landing represented something new in the conquest of "the Americas." We review the Plymouth Planation as an example of Settler Colonialism and begin to understand how the Pilgrims modeled the coming genocide, the introduction of chattel slavery and removal for the original people of this land.
